I bought this book because I had seen the Sinek "Why" Ted Talk. I wanted to learn more about the "Start with Why" concept. While the book does explain the concept in great detail, it could have been presented with much less text. There are far too many repetitive examples and the content is unnecessarily drawn out.

To bind a book, start by folding your pages in half and stapling them together at the folded crease. Then, cut a piece of binding tape that's about 2 inches longer than your book and lay it sticky-side up on a flat surface. Next, line up the creased edge of your book with the center of the tape and press your book down into the tape.

A book proposal argues why your book (idea) is a salable, marketable product. It acts as a business case or business plan for your book that persuades a publisher to make an investment. Instead of writing the entire book, then trying to interest an editor or agent (which is how it works with novels), you write the proposal first.
