Burnham makes a fine boiler. We install them all the time. That's pretty much the only manufacturer we use... Why does it have to be direct vent? You are gonna have a "cheaper to maintain" boiler if you go with a standard 204. No combustion motor, no control board, no HSI... I'd go with that over the spirit line due to simplicity.

I have a Burnham boiler in the Spirit Series Gas Boiler (model # XXXXX with SP). It's 2:50 am here and I was awakened about 20 minutes ago by a high pitched, steady, and loud sound that it turns out was coming from the boiler. So I came back up to the main floor and turned up two of the thermostats (to a bedroom and the living room area).
