The first modern unemployment benefit scheme was introduced in the United Kingdom with the National Insurance Act 1911, under the Liberal Party government of H. H. Asquith. The popular measures were to combat the increasing influence of the Labour Party among the country's working-class population. The Act gave the British working classes a contributory system of insurance against illness and ...

Narrowing the scope of Congress's Commerce Clause power. The first notable reversal from this expansive period came with the Court's 1995 decision in United States v. Lopez, 16 in which, for the first time since the 1930s, the Court invalidated a federal law as exceeding Congress's Commerce Clause power. The law in question was the federal Gun-Free School Zones Act, which made it a crime "to ...

Anecdotal evidence suggests that battered women who attempt to leave their batterers are often stalked by them (e.g., Walker, 1979; Browne, 1987). California passed the first stalking law in 1990. By 1994, 47 other states and the District of Columbia had passed stalking laws, many of them patterned after the California statute (Sohn, 1994).
